

My logo was inspired by how you reference yourselves: Miami Marines. That provided the framing structure in my mind of a military badge. The images inside the shield reflect how the Miami Marine Stadium can embrace life above and below the water in harmony. The fabled cantilevered roof has been distorted as if viewed from a fisheye lens. In that transformation, it resembles a sea shell. The ripples in the water expanding from the manatee tie it all together and invite the viewer to dive in and join the fun. --D.C. Copeland
